

FENSTERMACHER REFUSES TO ANSWER MANY QUESTIONS OF IMPORTANCE

In March 2023, I sent Fenster a long list of problems. I told him I found many much bigger, much nicer and much cheaper places for Mother to live. Fenster refused to act on those problems or care massive money was being wasted at the pig pen Mother was forced to live at.

Mr. Fenstermacher,

Very recently, Mr. Meitner quit, no previous notice given. He claims he has health problems. As you are aware, I have no legal knowledge at all and especially of my case to know when deadlines are due, matters to be appealed, how to do filings, etc. Also, as you know, because of all of the money I have wasted on lawyer fees on this guardianship scam since May 2021 with various lawyers, who basically did nothing to help my case, for the past year I have been living on about $600 a month social security and about $100 a month welfare. After paying Meitner about $25,000 cash in the first three months of him being hired, I still owe him tens of thousands of dollars more. The $14,000 check you gave me as my mother's gift to each of her children every year, I gave it all to Meitner to help pay my bill after you sent it to me late last year. The fact is, despite him being my lawyer for 14 months, for the sole purpose of bringing my mother home, she and I are far worse off now (visits, phone calls, outside activities, etc) than we were before he started.

As you are aware, I had found several very nice places for mother to live for the past year and much cheaper if she could not come home for some reason. Both you and Blumer have refused to let mother come home where she can still live daily without any outside help to dress, undress, bathe, eat, walk, etc, or live in a much nicer, safer and healthier place and to also save her money that she may need if her health or memory get worse. You are also mother's guardian of estate and though you have told Meitner where mother lives is the responsibility of Blumer, you are the one who looks after her financial assets. Wasting $90,000 a year on a tiny, disease infested room, locked down in a mental ward, in solitary confinement, no phone, no doctors appointments for 15 months, not allowed outside to enjoy her house, her loved possessions, restaurants, etc, is not the way any person should be living when Mother has a large 3 bedroom, 3 bath house in a private gated community and about $1.8 million in her Raymond James account (as of 2020). As you recall, several months ago, you signed off to sell the house, her loved possessions would be trashed and have me evicted, contrary to what my mother wants for herself and for me. You stated in court that is what you wanted, but upon questioning, you stated you had not talked or saw mother for about 2.5 years. As both her trust lawyer of 21 years and her guardian of estate for 10 months, you have responsibilities and obligations as a guardian. If the house is sold (even though the money is not needed now) and all of her loved possessions are trashed because there is no room in her very tiny little room, then is that how a person, with her previous lifestyle and with the money she has now should have to live until she dies? Would you allow that for your mother? As you know, my sister has no problem with mother living in that tiny room by herself, until she dies. I find it disgraceful for a daughter who did what she did to mother just to get what she always wanted: mother lives in a nursing home, house sold and all possessions trashed.

What was mother's crime that she had to be taken away by force by my sister and former guardian Logie and be forced to do what my sister and Logie wanted? That plan was to put mother into a nursing home (it seems anyone, no matter how low quality) whether Mother wanted to or not. Neither my mother or I were ever consulted about sister's and Logie's plan. Why not? Mother only had a little memory issue and she had no outstanding bills, no financial problems, no medical problems and was still driving her car when the petition was filed.

I am asking you to do what is best for mother and what being a guardian is responsible for: mother's happiness and her financial wellbeing. There is no need for mother's house to be sold and force the trashing of her possessions. Her room is so tiny, there is literally no place to put anything now, let alone any of her possessions from her house.. She has more than enough money to live, as her lifestyle was certainly able to handle when she became "owned" by people. I only want mother to be happy. Who knows how much longer and in what condition mother will be living. She is owed happiness every day. The disgusting way she is forced to live now is not what I will accept for her. At the very minimum, I have found several extremely nice and much cheaper places where she can bring some of her furniture and other items. The other items can be stored nearby. Those places were totally ignored by those in charge. Mother would be saving between $30-$60,000 a year over manatawny manor.

Let this stupidity and wasting mother's money by using billing hours stop being charged to mother by those lawyers. Her money is not theirs to grab for their lifestyle. When mother dies, 50% of the money they stole would have been mine. I am not giving my money to strangers.
